THE NUTCRACKER

2025–2026 SEASON

ASHLEY

Welcome to the tenth anniversary celebration of Christopher Wheeldon's magical retelling of this beloved story. It is hard to believe that ten years have passed since the creation of our Nutcracker. Since that time, this uniquely Chicago story has only grown deeper into the Joffrey's DNA. Many in our audience return year after year.

For all of us at the Joffrey, Nutcracker holds a very important place: bringing together our Company artists, Academy and Community Engagement students. As the world spins faster and faster, it is good to be reminded of the value of family and community. Beneath the towering structures of the Chicago World's Fair, we find a place to be inspired. Around a family table, we remember the joy of gathering with those we love.

We thank Christopher Wheeldon and his incredible team of talented artists. They created a Nutcracker with heart and magic! We are grateful to the fabulous Lyric Opera Orchestra, who bring Tchaikovsky's glorious score to its full realization.

In the spirit of the holidays, we hope you will embrace each other as family, and recognize the things we share as a part of this vibrant, dynamic community.

With thanks to each of you...Happy Holidays

JIM & GREG

Chicago has always been a city of wonder.

In 1893, the World's Columbian Exposition transformed the lakefront into a playground of innovation. Twenty-seven million visitors arrived in search of spectacle, and the city revealed itself as a place of possibility.

Among the fair's many marvels, a few humble delights made their debut: Cracker Jack, Juicy Fruit, and the first brownie — sweet ideas with staying power. More than a century later, Christopher Wheeldon tapped into that same spirit of imagination for The Nutcracker, inviting us to revisit the iconic era...with a hint of magic.

To celebrate the 10th anniversary of this uniquely Chicago production, we partnered with Oberweis Dairy to introduce The Nutcracker Peppermint Swirl: a limited-edition ice cream served here at the Lyric Opera House, as well as Oberweis scoop shops and grocery retailers through December. A joyful nod to the fair's legacy of flavorful "firsts."

With gratitude to Oberweis and their talented team, who made this festive collaboration possible, and thank you to The Nutcracker Presenting Sponsor, Guarantee Trust Life Company, our Production Sponsors, and The Nutcracker Maintenance Fund Sponsors, whose support keeps our holiday classic shining bright.

Here's to the traditions that make our city, and the season, a little sweeter.

FARISSA

Every artistic journey begins with a defining moment.

Mine was in New York, at my very first performance of The Nutcracker. I remember sitting in the audience as a young girl, swept up in the music, and realizing that creativity was part of who I am. In that instant, my world expanded.

I didn't grow up taking ballet classes or spending weekends at the theater, but as soon as I could create that opportunity for myself, I did. And like all things we love, that passion grew. First, it reached my children, who discovered ballet through the Joffrey's production of The Nutcracker. Then it extended to organizations like the Joffrey and its Women's Board, who broaden the pathways into dance.

For so many, The Nutcracker is an entry point. As President of the Joffrey Women's Board, I'm proud to help open that door even wider by welcoming new audiences, advancing arts education, and supporting Community Engagement initiatives that bring dance into schools and neighborhoods across Chicago.

I often think about the moment creativity found me, and how, each year, The Nutcracker taps someone new on the shoulder. The circle continues — one experience inspiring the next.

Thank you for helping us keep the magic within reach.

KEEPING THE MAGIC ALIVE

CELEBRATING
OF MAGIC

When Christopher Wheeldon's Nutcracker premiered in 2015, the atmosphere in the theater was electric. Set amid the grandeur of Chicago's 1893 World's Fair, this reimagined holiday classic quickly became the city's most cherished seasonal tradition. Now, ten years and more than 200 performances later, The Nutcracker remains a cornerstone of Chicago's cultural landscape and an incomparable work of art that continues to enchant audiences of all ages.

But even magic needs a little care.

To mark this milestone season, The Joffrey Ballet partnered with Scenic Studios for a meticulous restoration, an effort that honors Wheeldon's original vision while preserving the extraordinary craftsmanship that defines this production. Every enhancement was made with reverence for the past and an eye toward the future, ensuring that the brilliance of The Nutcracker continues to shine for generations.

HIGHLIGHTS OF THE 10TH ANNIVERSARY REFRESH

★ THE GOLDEN STATUE REBORN

The iconic World's Fair centerpiece gleams anew, fully transformed into a three-dimensional sculpture. Her radiant presence is made possible by a generous gift to The Nutcracker Maintenance Fund, given in memory of Richard H. Driehaus.

★ BATTLE SCENE PORTALS AND SET PIECES CRAFTED ANEW

The hand-painted portals and set pieces framing the epic Battle and Snow Scenes have been faithfully recreated, adding new vibrancy, dimension, and theatrical impact to Wheeldon's dreamlike world.

WITH GRATITUDE

Each revitalization breathes fresh life into this beloved production, rekindling the magic that has captivated Chicago since its premiere. We invite devoted audiences and newcomers alike to fall in love with the story, the city, and the timeless wonder of The Nutcracker.

Thank you to The Nutcracker Maintenance Fund Sponsors Anne L. Kaplan, Michael and Jennifer Larsen, A gift made in memory of the late Richard H. NUTCRACKER BELIEVERS

The Nutcracker is, at its heart, a story of discovery and transformation. At The Joffrey Ballet, we choose to tell stories like The Nutcracker because we believe that stories connect us to our humanity and bring us closer together.

Ten years ago, over 100 people and organizations chose to believe with us, and contributed financially to make this production of The Nutcracker possible. On the 10th Anniversary of bringing Christopher Wheeldon's production to the stage, we renew our gratitude for their support and again share their stories.

★ MARGOT AND JOSEF LAKONISHOK

Margot and Josef Lakonishok became “believers” on a sunny day in Brooklyn at the studio of Julian Crouch, the scenic and costume designer for The Joffrey Ballet’s Nutcracker.

Margot and Josef Lakonishok became “believers” on a sunny day in Brooklyn at the studio of Julian Crouch, the scenic and costume designer for The Joffrey Ballet’s Nutcracker. The studio was alive with magical creatures, fantastic masks, and puppets of all sizes and shapes lining the walls and inhabiting the rafters in the ceiling. Margot’s eyes lit up and she began asking detailed questions. Shortly thereafter, Josef asked how they could help bring The Nutcracker to Chicago’s stage. The CEO of LSV Asset Management, Josef Lakonishok is a Trustee of the Chicago Symphony and Lyric Opera of Chicago, where he and Margot have underwritten numerous productions. At the Joffrey, the couple has supported full length story ballets through a major gift to the Rudolf Nureyev Fund and sponsorships of Alice’s Adventures in Wonderland, Don Quixote, Anna Karenina, Midsummer Night’s Dream, Cinderella, Sylvia, Swan Lake, and La Bayadere. Margot said, “Christopher Wheeldon’s creativity inspired our gift for The Nutcracker but it is Ashley Wheeler’s artistic leadership that has cemented our family’s commitment to the Joffrey.” Their son, Guy Lakonishok, serves on the Joffrey’s Board of Directors.

“As a family, we invest in the arts because it is necessary. These great arts organizations tell powerful stories and bring so much to our community. The Symphony, the Opera, the Ballet — have always been made possible through patronage. We feel a responsibility to do what we can to secure the future of the performing arts in Chicago.”
— Josef Lakonishok

The Joffrey Ballet extends tremendous gratitude to Margot, Josef, and the entire Lakonishok Family.

★ THE SEARLE FUNDS AT THE CHICAGO COMMUNITY TRUST

For decades, the Searle Funds at The Chicago Community Trust have made a significant impact on the cultural landscape in and around Chicago.

"We are pleased to support a great Chicago institution, the Joffrey Ballet. Through performance and education programming, the Joffrey's new production of The Nutcracker will impact thousands of young people, encouraging them to see the world as a place of possibilities," says Nydia Searle, consultant to the Searle Funds at The Chicago Community Trust.

The Joffrey Ballet is honored and grateful for this generous support.

PRODUCING SPONSORS

★ HANCHER AUDITORIUM, UNIVERSITY OF IOWA

For more than fifty years Hancher Auditorium at the University of Iowa has encouraged and supported The Joffrey Ballet by commissioning new works, providing much sought-after rehearsal space, and the financial resources to build the organization into the world-class company it is today.

On December 10, 1987, Robert Joffrey's The Nutcracker premiered on stage at Hancher Auditorium thanks to the generosity of the Iowa City community. Twenty-nine years later, the Joffrey's extended family in Iowa made possible another world premiere Nutcracker by Tony Award®-winning choreographer Christopher Wheeldon.

The Joffrey thanks Hancher Auditorium at the University of Iowa for their sustained partnership and generosity and looks forward to returning to Iowa City in March 2026 to perform.

SANDY AND ROGER DEROMEDI

The Joffrey Ballet is often called the “Company of Firsts,” and Sandy and Roger Deromedi earned a similar premier distinction in May 2014 when they were the first donors to commit a leadership gift for the commission of a new Nutcracker for the Joffrey. Roger, a Joffrey Board Director since 2007, has been a thought leader in the Joffrey’s marketing and financial evolution. Sandy and Roger recognized early on that The Nutcracker was vital to the Joffrey’s fiscal health, and they were delighted to host the first fundraising event for the new production by Tony Award®-winning choreographer Christopher Wheeldon. “Giving to The Nutcracker not only satisfies our love of dance but also helps ensure the Joffrey’s future as a sustainable and relevant ballet company.” Since 2018, Sandy and Roger have also been major champions of Joffrey’s Live Music so that every performance is elevated by the beauty and power of a live orchestra.

MARY JO AND DOUG BASLER

When Mary Jo Basler first read the story Brian Selznick and Christopher Wheeldon dreamed of telling on stage through movement and music, she knew that the Basler and Masterson Families needed to be a part of the Joffrey’s reimagined Nutcracker. “As the daughter of an immigrant who grew up in Chicago surrounded by relatives, friends, and neighbors — an extended family of sorts — I felt a profound connection to this story and knew many others would feel the same.” Mary Jo, a Joffrey Director, has committed her life to bringing people together to build stronger communities. The Joffrey Ballet gratefully acknowledges Mary Jo and Doug for their generous support and for opening their home and hearts to the artistic team during the creation of this Nutcracker and throughout the years.

DANIEL AND PAMELLA DEVOS FOUNDATION

Pamella Roland DeVos, fashion designer, philanthropist, and Joffrey Director, fell in love with dance when she was a young girl in Western Michigan. Together with her husband Dan, they have supported organizations all over the country, providing resources for artists to create, perform, and entertain. Pamella and Dan decided to support the commission of a new Nutcracker because of the opportunities it would give to the young artists in the Grainger Academy and Company, and this year they made a commitment to reinvest in The Nutcracker to ensure the longevity of this holiday tradition. Pamella says she and Dan “are proud to support Ashley’s artistic vision for the Joffrey because we know he cares about the art form and the artists as much as we do.” The Joffrey salutes the DeVos Family for their generous support.

ROSEMARIE AND DEAN BUNTROCK

Rosemarie, a former Joffrey Director, and Dean have enthusiastically supported the Joffrey for over thirty years. When they learned there would be a new Nutcracker based in Chicago at the time of the 1893 World’s Fair and that Christopher Wheeldon would lead the creative team, Rosemarie and Dean knew they wanted to be a part of this special gift to Chicago. Dean, retired Chairman and CEO of Waste Management, Inc., commented “Chicago is a world-class city and it deserves a world-class dance company. The Joffrey has helped to put Chicago on the map as a cultural destination. We applaud Greg Cameron and Ashley Wheeler for their leadership.”

SONIA FLORIAN (IN MEMORIAM)

Sonia Florian’s love of the performing arts was broad and deep. Ashley Wheater (pictured here with Sonia) marvels, “Sonia traveled far and wide to see dance, opera, and theater — she was one of the most fluent arts patrons I ever met because she made a point to see almost everything.” Sonia, a Joffrey Director from 2005 to the time of her death in September 2025, attended and supported the Joffrey for years. Thanks to her generosity each season, the company has developed into a world-class organization with extraordinary talent from fourteen countries. The Joffrey Ballet is immensely grateful for Sonia’s gift to support The Nutcracker — a production created to highlight the athleticism and musicality of the Joffrey dancers, and to introduce the next generation of audience members to the beauty of the performing arts.

BILL AND ORLI STALEY (IN MEMORIAM) FOUNDATION

Orli and Bill Staley knew that Christopher Wheeldon's Nutcracker was going to be special before a step of choreography was created. As longtime Joffrey subscribers and production sponsors, they traveled to New York to see Wheeldon's An American in Paris on Broadway and returned inspired to make a gift supporting the commission. Orli once shared, "The Joffrey's productions are thrilling. I am taken to another place, totally swept up in the movement and music. We are happy to support the new Nutcracker so that others can experience that magical feeling." The Joffrey honors the Staley's sustained enthusiasm and support, and celebrates Orli's enduring legacy within Chicago's artistic community.

THE WALTER E. HELLER FOUNDATION

The Walter E. Heller Foundation, under the leadership of the late M. Catherine Ryan, was a consummate patron of arts and culture in the City of Chicago, making gifts to support artists in every discipline. When Cathie learned of the plans to create a Nutcracker for Chicago's families she was pleased to advocate for it, remarking, "like the Foundation, the Joffrey has embraced the Chicago community and is constantly striving to move the art form and the city forward. The Walter E. Heller Foundation's gift to support The Nutcracker is a gift to the people of Chicago, in loving memory of Alyce H. DeCosta" (pictured at left).

BETTE CERF HILL AND BRUCE SAGAN (IN MEMORIAM)

Bruce Sagan once reflected, “The Joffrey has been one of my great loves since we first presented them at the Harper Theater in Hyde Park in 1965, and it is a thrill to see how much the company has grown under Ashley’s artistic leadership.”

The Joffrey is deeply grateful to Bette Cerf Hill and the late Bruce Sagan for a lifetime of generosity and vision. Their investment has made possible Christopher Wheeldon’s Nutcracker and countless other commissions, but their true legacy lives in their decades of bold leadership — on the Joffrey’s Board and across Chicago’s cultural landscape. Their commitment helped shape the Joffrey into the organization it is today, and continues through Bette’s steadfast support.

WOMEN’S BOARD OF THE JOFFREY BALLET

Costumes for ballet require an intuitive understanding of movement and balance, and preserving their functionality has been a pressing concern for the civic leaders on the Women’s Board of The Joffrey Ballet. To safeguard the visual longevity of the production, they collectively supported the “Women’s Board Nutcracker Costume Initiative” to maintain, clean, and repair the nearly 250 costumes for their lifetime. Patti Eylar, Past Women’s Board President, can attest to the power of a well-designed costume, “all dancers have active relationships, strong ideas, and long memories about what they wear. The incredible construction and breathtaking beauty of a costume is significant.” The Joffrey is thrilled the Women’s Board collectively recognizes and supports the beauty in the small details.

AUDITORIUM THEATRE OF ROOSEVELT UNIVERSITY

Christopher Wheeldon’s Nutcracker celebrates the history of Chicago and as one of the city’s cultural treasures, the Auditorium Theatre, with its stunning architecture and own storied history, was perfectly suited to host the highly anticipated world premiere in December 2016. Dankmar Adler and Louis Sullivan, innovators in architecture, created a magnificent theater for the people of Chicago. The Joffrey Ballet renews its gratitude to the Auditorium Theatre for supporting the creation of Christopher Wheeldon’s Nutcracker, a story about and for the people of Chicago.

SYNOPSIS

ACT I

It is Christmas Eve in Chicago, 1892. Workers from around the world are constructing the World's Columbian Exposition, which will open in five months. Marie, the daughter of one of the workers, encounters a gang of boys on the construction site who show off things they've stolen. Marie's younger brother Franz steals a small red bundle from a rich boy's sled, and a Rat Catcher terrifies Franz.

Marie and Franz return to their home, a little shack where their widowed mother, a sculptress, is creating a great golden statue which will preside over the fair.

Workers from the fair and their families soon arrive at the shack with decorations, a small tree, and much food and drink. A wonderful Christmas party begins.

The man who has designed and created the World's Fair, a mysterious figure known as The Great Impresario, surprises everyone and shows up along with his apprentice (the rich boy from whom Franz stole the red bundle earlier). The Great Impresario entertains the workers with an enchanting vision of his fair.

He distributes gifts for everyone, but one is missing. Franz realizes it's the red bundle he'd stolen. The Great Impresario produces it like a magic trick and gives it to Marie. She unwraps it and discovers a beautiful nutcracker inside. Just then, the Rat Catcher frightens Franz, who drops the nutcracker, breaking it. The Great Impresario swiftly fixes it, but the party is now winding to a close, and soon, everyone leaves.

That night, something very strange happens. Marie awakens and is shocked to see rats kidnap Franz! The Great Impresario returns, and with a wave of his hand, the little tree from the party grows until it seems to have taken over the entire world. The Nutcracker, now life-size and alive, appears from within its branches. The Rat King leads a battle against the Nutcracker. Marie distracts the Rat King and the Nutcracker kills him.

Franz is rescued, and the rats carry off their king, vowing revenge. The Nutcracker is transformed into Prince Peter. It begins to snow. A magical gondola comes to take The Great Impresario, the Prince, and Marie off into the night.

ACT II

The gondola delivers The Great Impresario, the Prince, and Marie to the edge of a lake, where they are greeted by the Queen of the Fair, a vision in gold. The Queen grants them a visit to the Dream Fair. They move from pavilion to pavilion, where countries from around the world are represented. Soon, The Great Impresario and the Queen of the Fair have fallen in love, which causes the Dream Fair to explode with light.

Marie wakes up from her dazzling dream. It is Christmas Day.

BALLET NOTES

THE NUTCRACKER

Christopher Wheeldon's Nutcracker was conceived specifically for the great city of Chicago. When asked by The Mary B. Galvin Artistic Director Ashley Wheater to create a new version of the ballet, they agreed it needed to be set in Chicago, home to the Joffrey since 1995. Re-imagining a story as classic as The Nutcracker is always a challenge, but one Wheeldon was eager to take on. Tchaikovsky's beloved score conjures unforgettable images in our minds, and it is almost impossible to imagine a Nutcracker without a magical growing Christmas tree or a battle between toys and mice, but Wheeldon knew immediately there was room for his imagination to take over.

The decision was quickly made to place the ballet within the World's Columbian Exposition of 1893, which has taken on new life in popular culture as the subject of Eric Larson's brilliant book The Devil in the White City. This mysterious, dark and magical moment in Chicago's history seemed the perfect time and place to re-invent The Nutcracker, even though the fair only ran from May 1st to October 30th, 1893, which means it had closed by Christmastime. We realized it would be thrilling to set the ballet five months before the fair opened, in the winter of 1892, when the fairgrounds were still under construction.

A historic image of a shack on the construction site became central to our new story, and you will see a version of it on stage in the ballet. This photograph also perfectly supported Wheeldon's wish to bring in a new socio-economic plotline for The Nutcracker. Instead of the central family being wealthy and privileged, our heroine, Marie, is from a working class, immigrant family. She lives with her younger brother and her widowed mother, a sculptress working on the golden Statue of the Republic. Instead of receiving luxurious and rare presents at a magnificent party in a vast house and then dreaming of even more presents and candy, our story offers a small gathering of immigrant workers coming together to celebrate the holiday with the things they have, filling the air with music and their vivid imaginations. Then, once Marie falls asleep in her shack, she dreams of what the fair will look like when it opens. The fair itself was a kind of dream city, a vision of what could happen when the whole world comes together to show the best side of humanity in all its glorious ingenuity. So Marie's dream coming five months before the fair opens becomes a kind of dream within a dream, which has real consequences for Marie once she wakes up.

For anyone who has visited Epcot Center in Florida, the idea of a World's Fair will be familiar. Countries from around the world set up vast pavilions to celebrate their native foods, arts and sciences. This provides the perfect setting for Marie's journey in Act II as she travels throughout the Dream Fair, which depicts actual pavilions from the fair including Buffalo Bill's Wild West show.

The chief architect of the World's Columbian Exposition in 1893 was a man named Daniel Burnham, and he provided inspiration for the character of The Great Impresario. He is mysterious and magical (like Drosselmeyer in the original), and he not only serves as the imaginative force behind our version of the fair, but also comes to play a real role in Marie's life.

It is this transformation of Marie's life that ultimately became what was most important to this new version of The Nutcracker. While being respectful of the source material, we hope that Marie's dream journey through the World's Fair will illuminate what is special about all holiday stories... the value of love, the need for hope and the comfort of family, no matter where you are from, or what type of family you have.

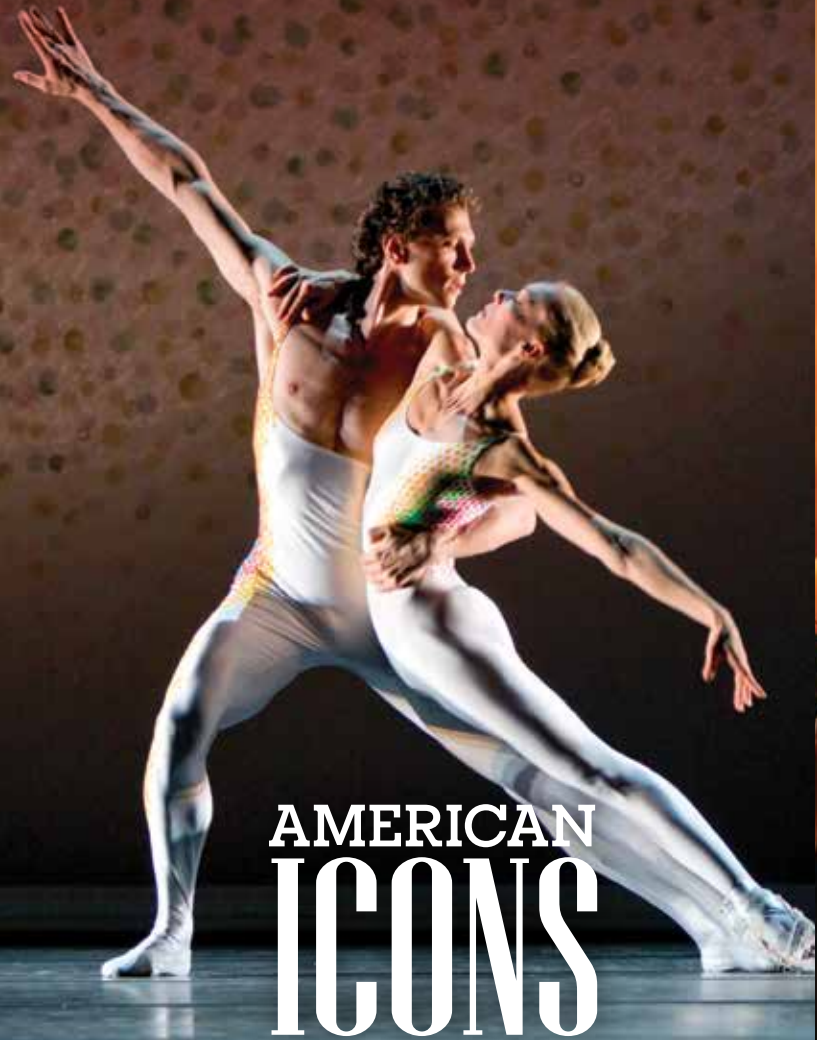

This seems like a dream worth remembering.

ASHLEY WHEATER MBE The Mary B. Galvin Artistic Director

Ashley Wheater has dedicated his life to dance. He was born in Scotland and trained at The Royal Ballet School in England. He worked with Frederick Ashton, Kenneth MacMillan, and Michael Somes in numerous ballets at Covent Garden, including Swan Lake, Sleeping Beauty, Giselle, Manon, Anastacia, and The Dream. Wheater danced with Rudolf Nureyev in Nureyev and Friends at the London Coliseum.

On Nureyev's advice, Wheater joined the London Festival Ballet and danced in his Romeo and Juliet and Sleeping Beauty. He danced in Glen Tetley's Sphinx and Greening and in Festival Ballet's large repertoire of classics and new creations. Under the artistic direction of John Field, he was promoted to Principal Dancer at the age of 20.

In 1982, he joined the Australian Ballet where he continued dancing principal roles in both classical and contemporary work, especially in the John Cranko full-length ballets.

In 1985, at the invitation of Gerald Arpino, Wheater joined The Joffrey Ballet. For the next four years, he performed various works by American choreographers including William Forsythe, Gerald Arpino, Mark Morris, Paul Taylor, and Laura Dean, as well as repertoire by Ashton and Cranko.

Joining the San Francisco Ballet in 1989, he continued his creative career working under Helgi Tomasson, and with choreographers James Kudelka, David Bintley, and many more. In 1997, he retired from dancing and was appointed Ballet Master and, later, Assistant to the Artistic Director at the San Francisco Ballet.

Since his appointment in 2007 as artistic director of The Joffrey Ballet, his passion and commitment to the Joffrey have been evident in the quality that he has brought to the dancing and to the repertoire. He has invited world-renowned choreographers, as well as fresh young talent, to create new work for the company. Wheater has added new full-length works to the Joffrey's repertoire, including Lar Lubovitch's groundbreaking Othello, Ronald Hynd's The Merry Widow, and Yuri Possokhov's Don Quixote.

In 2008, Wheater was the recipient of the Boeing Game-Changer Award in recognition of his commitment to community engagement in Chicago and to the celebration of diversity through dance. He sits on the Advisory Board for Dance Magazine, serves as the Artistic Advisor for ChiArts, and is the Advisor to the Arts for the Lincoln Academy of Illinois. In 2010, Wheater, representing The Joffrey Ballet, was named Lincoln Academy Laureate, the highest honor presented by the State of Illinois, and in 2013 the Chicago Tribune named him "Chicagoan of the Year." In 2015, Wheater received the University of Chicago Rosenberger Medal for Outstanding Achievement in the Creative and Performing Arts. GREG CAMERON President and Chief Executive Officer

Driven by his lifelong love for the arts, for his hometown, and for connecting with people from every background, Greg Cameron leads The Joffrey Ballet as President & CEO, responsible for organization-wide administration and strategy. Under Greg's partnership with The Mary B. Galvin Artistic Director Ashley Wheeler MBE, the Joffrey has set new records at the box office and built the strongest financial foundation in its history.

His 2013 appointment was the culmination of three decades of work in arts administration and philanthropy. "I always loved art, but I wasn't a great artist," he says. "I could paint by numbers, or I could connect the dots. I realized early on I was a good dot connector. I could connect people to each other and help them get involved with the things they believe in."

As a child in suburban Chicago, Greg ran a makeshift theater out of his garage and sold more mints than anyone else for his local YMCA. And as an adult, he turned those passions into a career raising funds for the cultural organizations he loves. At the Chicago Department of Cultural Affairs; the Art Institute of Chicago; the Museum of Contemporary Art, where he rose to the role of Deputy Director and Chief Development Officer; and WTTW/WFMT, where he served as COO, Greg dedicated himself to supporting art and artists and to creating meaningful experiences for others.

"The Joffrey brings it all together for me," he says. "It's about collaboration, partnership with the community, honoring and supporting artists, and telling stories that truly move people."

Today, Greg leads the Joffrey's efforts to support unforgettable productions and new commissions, reach out to organizations and communities across Chicago, and open up world-class ballet for audiences from all backgrounds. Throughout the span of his 40-year career as an arts administrator in Chicago, Greg has volunteered for a wide range of nonprofit organizations and civic committees. He currently serves on the Facing History and Ourselves Chicago Advisory Board and the State Street SSA Commission. Greg was recently honored by the Association of Fundraising Professionals Chicago Chapter with their Benjamin Franklin Award, in recognition of the significant achievements throughout his long career, serving as a role model for his profession.

Before joining the Grainger Academy, Amy taught at the Royal Ballet School on both the Associate and Primary Steps Programs. She trained at the Royal Academy of Dance and later completed the Diploma of Dance Teaching at The Royal Ballet School. Amy also serves as a Trustee of the RAD, elected by teaching members worldwide, and is a certified STOTT Pilates instructor.

Amy brings a wealth of teaching experience from leading organizations in the UK, including Rambert, Central School of Ballet, Trinity Laban, Tring Park, the Royal Opera House, and BalletBoyz. She also led the Dance Department at Thomas's London Day Schools, best known as the former school of Prince George and Princess Charlotte. In addition to her work with young dancers, Amy has mentored trainee teachers at both the RAD and the Royal Ballet School.

SUZANNE LOPEZ

Abbott Academy Director and Children's Cast Rehearsal Director

Suzanne Lopez was born and raised in Summit, New Jersey, to Cuban parents. She first began training at the Garden State Ballet School under Fred Danieli and later studied at the New Jersey School of Ballet. Her introduction to the Joffrey Ballet started at age 12 when she attended her first summer intensive audition taught by Robert Joffrey. From that moment on, her training was steeped in his founding traditions and methodology taught to her by Robert Joffrey himself and his team of former Joffrey dancers, who became his protégés and her mentors.

After starting her professional career for a year and a half with the Joffrey II Dancers, Lopez joined The Joffrey as a Company Artist in 1991 and moved to Chicago with the company in 1995. During her nineteen-year career, Lopez danced principal roles in ballets by such choreographers as Robert Joffrey, Gerald Arpino, George Balanchine, Jerome Robbins, Alonzo King, John Cranko, José Limón, Antony Tudor, Twyla Tharp, Lar Lubovitch, and Sir Frederick Ashton. She was featured on the cover of Pointe magazine as the Sugarplum Fairy in Robert Joffrey's The Nutcracker. In addition to dancing, Lopez assisted Gerald Arpino in rehearsals for his ballets. She taught classes for the Arpino Apprentice Program and was one of the first instructors to begin teaching at the inception of the Joffrey Academy of Dance, Official School of The Joffrey Ballet.

After retiring from dancing in 2010, Lopez continued teaching and coaching at the Joffrey Academy, among other Chicago-area schools. In 2016, she was thrilled to return to The Joffrey as a Rehearsal Director, where she worked on a diverse repertoire, including new creations with John Neumeier, Yuri Possokhov, and Christopher Wheeldon. She has also been a guest teacher, répétiteur, and coach at schools and companies worldwide. As the Abbott Academy Director, Lopez embraces all her experiences as a student, dancer, educator, and rehearsal director and imbues Robert Joffrey's vision into every facet of the Academy's specialized curriculum. With her unique lineage and perspective, Lopez sets a firm foundation for the next generations of dancers.

He went on to dance for Nice Opera Ballet, Deutsche Oper am Rhein in Dusseldorf, Zurich Ballet and San Francisco Ballet, where he was made Principal Dancer in 2004. His repertoire included lead roles in Balanchine's Jewels, Square Dance, Divertimento No. 15, The Four Temperaments, and Tarantella pas de deux. He also danced the leads in Robbins' Dybbuk and Mats Ek's Carmen, Benvolio and Mercutio in Romeo and Juliet, and Cavalier in The Nutcracker, and danced in various ballets by Mark Morris.

Blanc originated roles in Wheeldon's Rush and Quaternary; Welch's Falling and Naked, Possokov's Study in Motion and Reflections; and Tomasson's 7 for Eight and Blue Rose. In 2006 and 2007, he created two pieces for San Francisco Ballet School. He also created After Having Been for the International Ballet Competition (IBC) in Jackson, MS.

Blanc was awarded a special prize in performing arts by the city of Dusseldorf in 1998, and a special award of recognition by his hometown in 2004 (and 2013), and he was named one of the "25 to Watch" by Dance Magazine. In 2010, he was nominated with Tina LeBlanc for an Isadora Duncan Dance Award (Best Ensemble in Wheeldon's Within The Golden Hour). He joined Scottish Ballet as Ballet Master in 2009. In his time with the company, he coached Page's Nutcracker, Cinderella, Alice, Fearful Symmetries, Pastor's Romeo and Juliet, as well as Ashton's Scenes de Ballet, and Balanchine's Rubies. In 2010, he was the personal assistant of Val Caniparoli for the world premiere of Still Life.

Recently, he has created Purple, Memories of The Future, Unveiled, The Spell, and Encounter for the annual fundraiser for Embarc, a Chicago organization dedicated to supporting low-income high school students in their training. In July 2014, Blanc received the choreographic award at the IBC in Jackson, Mississippi, for his duet Rendez-Vous. In 2015, his ballet Evenfall made its US debut on The Joffrey Ballet's spring program.

Blanc was selected to participate in the 2015 National Choreographers Initiative (NCI) and created Orphee, which was presented at the Barclay Theater in Irvine, CA. He was also chosen to participate in New York City Ballet's New York Choreographic Institute where he created Mothership, which premiered in New York City Ballet's 2016 gala. In 2018, he created Beyond the Shore for The Joffrey Ballet, with designs by Katrin Schnabl and music composed by Mason Bates. This commission was supported by the New York Choreographic Institute and Cal Performances in Berkeley, CA. In 2019, Blanc created Desert Transport, also set to music by Bates, for Barak Ballet.
