CELEBRATING

70
YEARS

HONOR OUR PAST, SHAPE OUR FUTURE

The Joffrey Ballet was born in 1956, when Robert Joffrey and Gerald Arpino set out with a bold vision to create a uniquely American ballet company.

Although established in New York, the Joffrey found its true home in Chicago in 1995 and has since become a cultural icon, pushing boundaries, redefining ballet, and inspiring audiences around the world. This season, we proudly celebrate 70 years as a Company and 30 years in Chicago.

Our legacy wouldn't be possible without you.

The Joffrey Ballet thrives because of the patronage, advocacy, and generosity of our donors. Joffrey Friend and Joffrey Circle members unlock exclusive, behind-the-scenes access to the art they love.

Your continued support brings groundbreaking new works to life, expands access to dance education, and fosters the next generation of artists.

Join us in helping shape the next 70 years.

Sincerely,

Sarah Geocaris, Director of Individual Giving
